Note to the reader: If you have NOT seen the latest episode of The Walking Dead, DO NOT read ahead. Spoiler Alert!

The mid-season finale of The Walking Dead is usually a big shabang that leaves fans content with the show up until it airs again in February.

However, this mid-season finale about the Walkers most certainly wasn't the extreme its fans were expecting. Thousands of fans across America were shocked when a character died.

A fan favorite, Beth Greene's death, had made a huge impact on viewers.

Fans were so upset with Beth's death that they made polls online to try and get enough votes to bring the character back.

With a shot to the head, it's hard to imagine how that character could possibly be revived. To most, Beth's character brought light and happiness to the dark, disturbing show. Even actors of The Walking Dead felt emotionally disturbed.

Several RHS students saw the episode and had some things to say about this climactic event.

People interviewed: Spencer Trapiss, Anthony Hinojosa, Christina Paramo, Brendan Hart, Dakota Collins

Questions:

1.) How did you react when Beth died?

Spencer: "I didn't know how to react at first. It really caught me off guard."

Anthony: "I was completely shocked. I thought only Dawn was going to die. To see that Beth was also killed really surprised me."

Brendan: "I almost cried. Out of all the harsh characters in the show, Beth really brought in some light. To see that light go out is heartbreaking."
Christina: "I was happy. Beth really annoyed me and I wanted her to die a long time ago."
Dakota: "I didn't know what to think or how to react. I really didn't expect her to die like that."

2.) How much did you like/love Beth as a character? Would you stop watching it because she died?

Spencer: "In my opinion Beth wasn't such an important character. She didn't kill as many Walkers as the others and she seemed weak. I'll still watch the show."
Anthony: "I liked Beth. But I would rather her die than Carol or her sister Maggie. Deaths are common in the show. So this death won't keep me from watching it."

Brendan: "I kinda liked Beth. But I would rather her die than Glenn or Maggie. Yes, I will still continue to watch the show without her."
Christina: "I hated her. If anything, it will only motivate me to watch it more."

Dakota: "I believe Beth played a big role in the show. She was a symbol of love in an apocalyptic world of hate. But I will still continue to watch the show without her."

3.) How do you think the other characters will carry on without her?

Spencer: "I think everyone will be depressed for the rest of the season, especially Daryl and Maggie."

Brendan: "I'm not sure about the other characters, but her sister Maggie will probably go crazy."
Anthony: "I think they will carry on. I do think her sister Maggie will go crazy."

Christina: "I think they will be a lot better off without her."

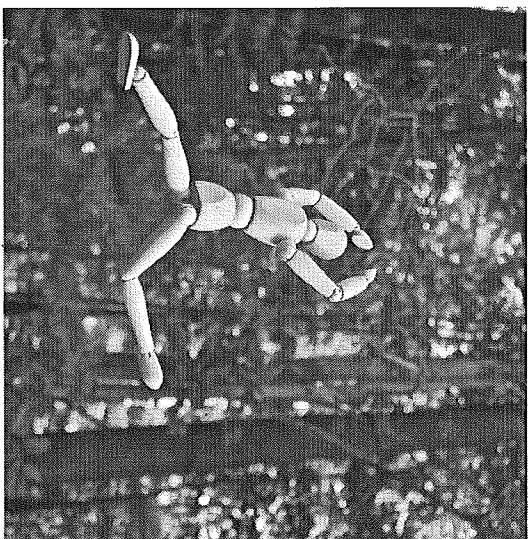

Dakota: "Beth was the last of Maggie's family. So I suspect that Maggie will probably be either really depressed or really crazy."
